

I AM TAKING A PAUSE

I am taking a pause. That doesn't mean I am going to stop working, it just means you aren't going to be receiving emails from me every day anymore. Thank you for reading this perfectly imperfect vomit rainbow of a blog, which may resume at any time.

Of course I will still be working on my stories and my podcast and whatever emerges and anyone currently on this list will still be receiving whatever comes up.

I know some of you like to follow my repostings on social media. There is a very good chance my facebook will be completely deleted, but I will still be reposting whatever on Twitter. So look me up there if you really want to. I have pictures of naked gnomes on there so you might find that fun.

Of course, many of you have a lot to catch up on! There are currently seven short stories and fourteen podcast instalments along with the litany of blog posts to enjoy. It's all a million times better than much of the horseshit out there. And if you enjoy the stuff, please spread the word so that I can conquer the world. Because all I really want is power.
